Mountain Heritage outscored Madison 15-6 in overtime to post a 76-67 victory over the Patriots Wednesday night. The game was closely contested through out, with no team getting ahead by more than six points. Even though both teams played tight defense, each team did an excellent job of protecting the basketball, minimizing turnovers. John Cannon led the Cougars with 19 points including 14 in the first half. He also managed 11 rebounds and seven blocks, many of which were at critical junctures of the game. Steven Wilson added 15 points and 11 rebounds, including several in the fourth quarter. Drew Letterman scored 12 points, and was able to draw key fouls in the fourth quarter and overtime. In the end, Mountain Heritage was able to get a total team effort from everyone, and their depth proved to be crucial in the game, especially down the stretch. The Cougars upped their record to 4-1 in the conference and 10-5 overall and travel to Hendersonville Friday night to continue conference play.
